Thank You!!

- Dr. Raj Shah and Ms. Annie Barz
- ORE Core Steering Committee
- All contributing ADC administrators
Overview

- What are the key issues that Administrators are facing and trying to address?
- How are Administrators trying to support the efforts of the ORE Cores?
- What are key areas in which Administrators would like more collaboration with the ORE Core Leaders?
What Are Those Administrators Doing Anyway?

- #1 Answer:

- Challenges
  - NIA funds do not cover all that our ADCs want/need to do
    - Biomarker studies are expensive
    - Desire to supplement pilot funds
  - Unexpected needs of Cores/Projects

- Actions
  - Soliciting/building gift funds
  - Identifying industry collaborations (plus contracting)
What Are Those Administrators Doing Anyway?

#2 Answer:

- Maintaining organization to meet deadlines
- Preserving the cohesiveness of the ADC
- Dealing with increasing career advancement in multiple levels
- Mentoring junior investigators
- Handling complex research issues
- Surpassing obstacles - we really love logistics!
What Are Those Administrators Doing Anyway?

- #3 Answer: We are the ones who handle the “grab-bag” items

Admin Core Support of ORE Cores

- Assist with obtaining funds and associated contracting/finances
  - Help to prioritize needs/demands
  - Facilitate funding of ORE Core Innovation

- Attend/support/speak at ORE Core events

- Assist with development of educational materials

- Monitor burden: is the “ask” appropriate for the ORE Core?

Admin and ORE Core Areas of Collaboration

- Develop recruitment/outreach goals with the Clinical Core
  - Planning for under-represented groups
  - Considering burden for all involved
  - Incorporating technology in recruitment/outreach
  - Including clinical trial needs

- Plan (actively) for retention

- Identify funding opportunities for the ORE Core
  - Including community funding and in-kind contributions
Kudos for the ORE Cores!

“We collaborate very closely with the ORE Core.”

“The ORE Core is well-integrated into our ADC.”

“We have a wonderful ORE Core Leader!”

“We routinely meet with our ORE Core Leader to discuss ways to enhance the work being done at our ADC.”
